ECONOMY: HOUSEHOLD SPENDING SUSTAIN RETAIL MOMENTUM

Czechia’s economy regained momentum in 2024 after a prolonged stagnation, driven by a rebound in household consumption. Rising real incomes and a drawdown in excess savings are helping offset past inflation losses. With inflation near the central bank’s 2% target and nominal wages continuing to rise, consumer spending is set to remain a key growth driver.

Even so, policy uncertainty and weak global trade are likely to temper the recovery. Even if growth stalls quarter-on-quarter, GDP is projected to expand by 0.9% in 2025, remaining below that of Central European peers.

SUPPLY & DEMAND: RETAIL PARKS LEAD NEW DEVELOPMENT IN EARLY 2025

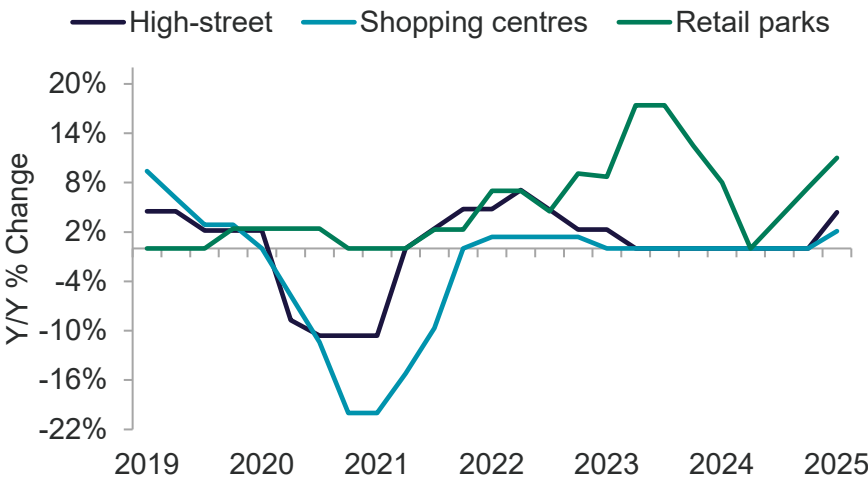

By the end of Q1 2025, total retail space in Czechia reached 4 million sq m, including shopping centres, retail parks, and outlet centres. Over 26,900 sq m was added during the quarter, all within retail parks, with no new shopping centres delivered or renovated. The largest completion was the Kozomín Retail Park, adding 14,700 sq m, followed by the retail park in Terezín with 5,300 sq m. Retail parks continued to expand across the country, reinforcing their strong appeal among consumers, landlords, and developers.

Approximately 140,100 sq m of retail space is currently under construction or renovation. The largest project under reconstruction is the shopping centre Forum Pardubice (24,000 sq m), followed by the reconstruction of the former Kotva department store with 15,000 sq m.

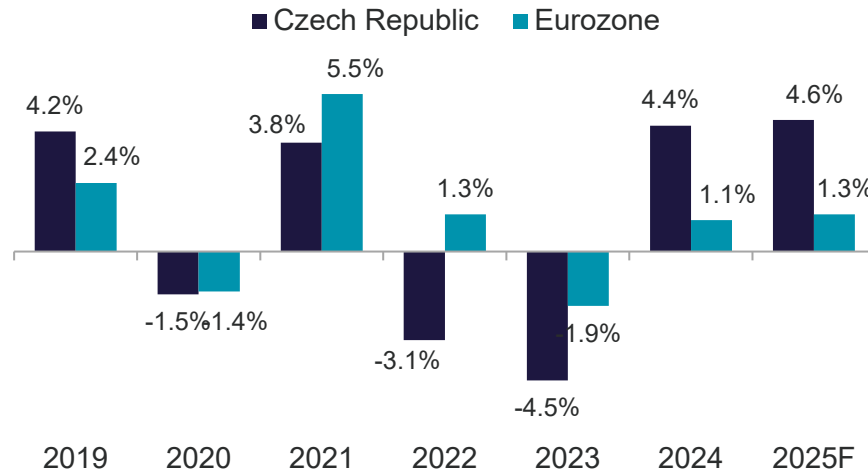

PRICING: PRIME RENTAL RENTS INCREASE AFTER A LONG PERIOD OF STABILITY

Prime retail rents rose for the first time since Q2 2022, reaching €235.00 per sq m for high street units and €145.00 per sq m for shopping centres. Retail park rents increased slightly to €15.00 per sq m, with further increases likely amid sustained demand.
